“Conversation pieces that demonstrate a perfect balance between form and function with a sleek and distinctive style.”

Presenting the Limited Edition Black Eternity EXOCET™ Duo
By Stéphane Leathead

Designarium

Montréal, Canada, December 2018

The award winning EXOCET chair and late NYCTALE table, the two central pieces of the EXOCET™ collection, will be exhibited at the Interior Design Show Toronto January 17-20, 2019 in the curated Studio North gallery – booth SN13. For the occasion, a stunning deep black veneer handmade Limited is issued.

DESIGN

The ergonomics of the EXOCET™ furniture collection by Stéphane Leathead, are carefully designed with the consistent intention to offer maximum functionality, comfort and beauty.

The EXOCET™ chair has a unique and clever design acclaimed by the industry worldwide on several occasions. Adjustable to everyone’s comfort simply by loosening up the handle and locking it in the desired position and angle.

The coffee table NYCTALE, complement to the chair, is designed with the same principle in mind. The table opens up and doubles the serving surface with no further need of manipulation.

INNOVATION

Simple and easy to configure in several ways, both, the EXOCET™ chair and NYCTALE table, are crafted from a single main piece, a slat. A series of identical slats assembly is simply rotated on an axel. Offered with various wood veneers, the slat is designed to simplify the production process and minimize the waist of material.

No installation required. Minimum pieces for maximum functionality. Thoughtfully designed from the beginning to the end, from the manufacturer to the end-user.

ELEGANCE

Authentic objects of contemplation, the soft and delicate curves of the EXOCET™ collection inspire elegance and distinction. The forthcoming concepts are being created with the same aesthetic standards and spirit: a perfect balance between form and function.

ABOUT THE DESIGNER

Stéphane Leathead is an international award-winning designer, entrepreneur and creative thinker. He's a master at synthesizing complex concepts, making them accessible while maintaining the highest level of communicated aesthetics and design. Every commission is an opportunity to push its creative thinking to new frontiers.

He started his career as a graphic designer then lived in Singapore for a few years, where he shared his passion for design as a lecturer and art director. His work was awarded early in his career at the Hong Kong Design 96 Show. Upon his return, Stéphane co-founded Cellule Design. Under his lead as the creative director, the agency was granted local and international recognition, to name a few, the 2012 REBRAND 100® Global Awards, the prestigious German Design Award 2013 and the Summit International Creative Award in 2012 and 2018.

ABOUT DESIGNARIUM

Stéphane founded Designarium in 2008, a design agency based in Montreal. Originally a consulting firm in the business of branding and graphic design that often included three dimensional forms.

Designarium is now specializing in furniture and object design and is presently the main distributor of the EXOCET™ collection.

"Let it be an object or a brand, the creative process, in its essence, remains the same. It's a movement where beauty and intelligence shall coexist with grace to generate benefits to its beholder."

– Stéphane Leathead
